WILMOT

It is doubtful if any of the other migration of the Wilmot family to America has produced a larger, or more widely scattered membership than the Connecticut branch. For this reason it has been very difficult to secure the names, addresses, and other data necessary to present complete families records.

The compiler and author is greatly indebted, and extends grateful thanks, to Donald Lines Jacobus of New Haven, Connecticut, and Horace J. Willmot of Massillon, Ohio, for permission to use their family data on this line of the family headed by Benjamin Wilmot, the Connecticut immigrant.

The Wilmot Family of New Haven, Connecticut, by Donald Lines Jacobus contains certain duplications in his Wilmot Family which follows: "Both lines are given with this explanation, that one was prepared quite a good many years ago and the data was not as complete as that which appears in his "Families of Ancient New Haven".

HARTZELL & ALLIED FAMILIES of
BASH, STAUFFER, WORMAN & SHALLENBERGER

WORMAN

Little is known of the Worman immigrant ancestor of Nancy Worman Stauffer who married Michael Bash Hartzell in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania in 1836. The following is quoted from records kept by Nancy:

> "George Worman, Sr., born in Germany, married Catherine from Sweden. She was a Christian, but he was not, although a good soldier which is a noted thing among these people. They settled in Northampton Co., Pa., lived there for some time, then moved to Frederick Co., Md., where they and most of their children died. Henry, born in Germany, died in Frederick Co., Md.; Jacob, born in Northampton Co., Pa., died in Md.; Conrad, born in Northampton Co., died in Northampton Co.; Andrew, born in Northampton Co., Pa., died in Md.; George, born in Northampton Co., Pa., died in Northampton Co., Pa. George Worman, Jr., married Catherine Yurts at Northampton, moved to Mt. Pleasant, Pa., 1810. He was drafted three times in the Revolutionary War, but his mother being left alone the last time, he paid for a substitute. She was a great church going person but quite liberal in her views, could go to any church that was good. They belonged to the Otterbinds or United Brethren, living and dieing Christians. She died suddenly with pluersy, living to be quite old, being confined to her bed for four, five years. (Their daughter) Margaret was born in Northampton, married John Stauffer, Jr. at Mt. Pleasant, had 15 children .... married Apr. 7, 1814. (Their daughter) Nancy Worman Stauffer and Michael Bash Hartzell were married May 5, 1836. John Stauffer, Jr. was born Lancaster Co. Pa., Apr. 1, 1792; Margaret Worman was born July 7, 1794 .... "

The first part of the above is difficult to interpret in accordance with proven facts. She implies that Henry, Jacob, Conrad, Andrew and George were sons of the immigrant, George Worman, Sr. If so, the full name of the immigrant may have been George Henry Worman, for we find that Henry, Jacob, Conrad, Andy, and George Worman, heirs of Henry Worman, Sr., deceased, patented a tract of land of 316 acres & 20 perches, located in Upper Salford Township, Philadelphia (later Northampton) County, Pennsylvania, which had been granted to Henry Worman, Sr. on June 19, 1772, (Warrant originally granted to George Clouster, Jan. 8, 1734, and to John Lynch, Jan. 17, 1734).

Or, these five sons (Henry, Jacob, Conrad, Andrew and George) three of whom later moved from Northampton County, Pennsylvania, to Maryland, may have been children of Henry, the son born in Germany who came to America with his parents. If so, they would be grandsons of the immigrant, George Worman.

If a grandson of George, Sr. and a son of Henry, our George, Jr. should have been called George III. The notes of his granddaughter, Nancy Worman Stauffer Hartzell, inply that George, Jr. was a son of George, Sr. The date of birth of George, Jr. (1752), would indicate that he was a grandson of the immigrant George, and a son of the George who she says lived and died in Northampton County, Pennsylvania. It seems quite probable that his father was named George Henry, and was the Henry of Upper Salford Township; and that the five sons of this Henry named were himself and his four brothers.

to KDC

It would seem that the Henry who died in Frederick Co.,Md., was Henry of the third generation, whose will, dated 1804, probated 1806, Frederick County, names his wife, Margaret, and children: Magdalena Lemon, Peggy Dickensheets, Henry, Elizabeth, David, Eva, Jacob, Barbara, and children of George, deceased.

That Northampton County was the home of our George,Jr. is shown by the fact that he served with Northampton troops in the American Revolution. His record of service is as Private:

Col. George Breinig
Ref.: PA. ARCHIVES, 5th Ser., Vol. VIII, p. 115.

His granddaughter,Nancy Worman Stauffer Hartzell says that he married Catherine Yurts in Northampton County, and that his daughter, Margaret Worman (mother of Nancy) was born in Northampton County. Another descendant says that Margaret Worman was born at Hagerstown, Maryland. George Worman, Jr., was married about 1780 and after the Revolution may have joined his relatives in Maryland for a time before coming west to Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, where we find him located by 1810.

His mother, Magdalena Worman, came west with him and died at his home, October 3,1820, age 91. Magdalena Worman, George Worman,Jr., and his wife Catherine, and their son, Rev. Daniel Worman were buried in the old United Presbyterian Church Graveyard in Mount Pleasant,Pennsylvania.This Graveyard has now been done away with but the list of those buried there has been published in HISTORY OF WESTMORELAND COUNTY, PA., by Dallas Albert, page 543; and NATIONAL GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY QUARTERLY, Vol. 19, No. 3, page 59.

Margaret Worman was married April 7,1814 to John Stauffer, Jr.whose father's land joined that of her father George Worman, Jr.Their daughter,Nancy Worman Stauffer was married in Blairsville,Pa., May 5,1836, to Michael Bash Hartzell.(For Michael & Nancy(Stauffer)Hartzell & descendants, see pp. 31-73.)

"Grandma Worman Stouffer died 1891 - advanced age of 97 yrs. had 15 children, 80 G children, 130 great grand children & 30(80?) great great grandchildren."

Christian HARTZELL of Williams Township, Northampton Co, PA.

Christian HARTZELL appears on 1772 singleman list for Williams Township, Northampton County, Pennsylvania. Father and Mother are unknown. He was one of our soldiers who fought for American's Independence as a Private Northampton County Militia 1st Battalions under Capt. Kleinhantz 6th Company 4th Class Rev. War 1777.
After the war he continued to pay Taxes in Williams Twp. 1785, 1786 and 1788. He Paid Taxes on 2 horses and 3 cattle, his taxes were 3 dollars. In 1788 he pays taxes on 80 acres quite possibly the same 80 previously owned by a Leonard Hartzell.
Christian and his wife Anna Maria lived on a 130 acre farm called a Messauage Plantation (This is not the name of the place this like what they called a farms back in the olden days). His land was adjoined by Peter Lattig, Henry Snyder, John Herster land. He received his Patent from the Commonweath of Pennsylvania 18 July 1806 recorded in Book 63 page 270 Northampton County, PA.
He was married to Anna Maria Possibly maiden Name BRUCH about fall of 1772 usually after the harvest, to this union were born at least 6 children: Elizabeth married to Jacob Hasenfus, Abraham, Samuel, John, Peter, and Susanna married George Berry. His son Peter and John proceeded him in death.
Christian's will was probated 4 December 1826 recorded in Will Book 5 page 136, Northampton Co, Penn. His two remaining son's Abraham and Samual acted as his executors. He left Abraham and Samuel his 130 acre Plantation in Williams Twp. He also provided about $100.00 to the heirs of his children, John, Peter, and Elizabeth. Susanna was to receive $100.00 5 years after his death. Elizabeth was to receive $250.00 four years after he died. Each year after his death a different heir was to receive a payment. He also provided his wife Anna Maria with $12.00 a year and a cow in addition Abraham and Samuel where to provide for her and she was allowed to stay on at the Plantation.
I ASSume Christian's father is Leonard Hartzell but I need to find Leonard's original Land Records to prove the connection. I also ASSume Anna Maria Hartzell parents are Mathias Bruch & his wife Anna Barbara just need to Prove it. Need to find the Warrant for Leonard's 80 Acres in Williams township.

[75]. Original information on Susan Wagner Hittle came from her Granddaughter Fern Hittle Holt (1896-1990) who personally knew all of kinds of Stories about her grandmother. Although she grew up in Wyoming and her Grandmother lived in Illinois her family traveled via train & later by automobile to visit her grandmother. *My Aunt Fern was a great person who was always truthful except when it came to her age, on her 90th Birthday bash she couldn't understand what all the fuss was about and why they put 90 candles on her Cake as she was only 87 --- her grandmother had that same affliction ... on each census she got younger and younger on one census she and her daughter where almost the same age. Don't be fooled by these Strong Women women in my family even though they never wanted anyone to know their true age. They where Tough old Birds and True Pioneers of the Western Spirit, Having Hartzell roots must have made them part of that American Fiber of the strong back and hard work makes a happy & satisfied person. When ever you see a Wyoming License Plate with it's bucking Bronco it's a Symble of the love of the wild & wide open life style in the true old West think of our Branch of the Descendants of Christian Hartzell.

The number of school-children in the district, as reported in September, 1878, was 8500.

CHURCHES.

LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Many of the inhabitants of the southeastern part of the township were Lutherans and Reformed Lutherans, and in 1812 united in the erection of a log building for church and school purposes. It was erected on land of Nicholas Berger, on the northeast quarter of section 34. A cemetery was laid out on the same lot, wherein Lizzie Rummel, a daughter of Nicholas Berger, was the first to be buried. This church was occupied thirteen years, when a larger one of brick was erected, which was remodeled in 1867.

The first members of the Lutheran church were Abraham Arter, Henry Halverstadt and wife, Jacob Schweitzer and family, Frederick Whelan, and Mrs. Andrew Brinker. The first pastor was Rev. John W. Stough, who was succeeded by Revs. Jacob Shafer and John W. Hoffman. The latter was pastor in 1840. At this time dissatisfaction existed between the two denominations, and they separated, the Lutherans keeping the old church.

The pastors from that time have been Revs. —— Thompson, Samuel Wagner, S. P. Harrington, J. J. Delo, A. B. Kirtland, J. H. Stough, and Joseph Swick, who is now in charge.

REFORMED LUTHERAN CHURCH.

The first members of this church were Conrad Worman, Henry Worman, Henry Brinker, and Jacob Worman, and their families, Andrew Brinker, and Mrs. Fred Whelan. The first pastor was Peter Monosmith, who was succeeded by Revs. John Keller, Henry Sonedecker, E. V. Foeght, and Henry Hess. Prior to 1840 services were held in the brick church, but in that year a frame building was erected upon land north of the brick church, at a cost of $1500. The church has since been under the pastoral care successively of Revs. Aaron Warner, S. N. King, G. N. Albright, and J. T. Hole, who is the present incumbent. The house of worship of this society is situated on the southeast quarter of section 34.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH OF LEETONIA.

In the fall of 1872, Rev. J. W. Stough called a meeting of the Lutheran element, which assembled in the Ridge school-house to discuss the propriety of petitioning the Synod to establish a church at Leetonia, to be called the "St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church," and to comprise a part of the "Mineral Charge." A petition was drawn, presented, and granted, and an organization effected composed of 14 members.

During the summer of 1873 preparations were made for building, and a church was erected and finished during the fall of that year, and dedicated on the 12th of October. The first pastor was Rev. John W. Stough, who was succeeded by I. J. Delo, J. W. Swick, and D. R. Hanna, who is the present pastor. The church has 73 members and a Sunday-school of 120 pupils, of which S. E. Nold is superintendent.

ST. JOHN'S GERMAN LUTHERAN CHURCH OF LEETONIA.

This society was organized in 1870, with 10 constituent members, under the care of Rev. S. Bechler. A church was built in the summer of 1870, at a cost of $2125. The dedication sermon was preached by Rev. J. J. Fast, of Canton. Revs. M. F. Lanfer and Henry Faigle have officiated to the present time. The church has 12 members and a Sunday-school of 30 pupils, of which Jacob Knegle is superintendent.

HART METHODIST CHURCH.

About the year 1824, Garrett Hart, who had lived on section 31, in this township, several years, persuaded the people in the neighborhood of the present Hart church who were inclined to Methodism to organize a class, of which he was chosen the first leader. The members of this class were Garrett and Elizabeth Hart, Joseph Headley and wife, Jonathan Dickinson and wife, Samuel Shelton and Catharine, his wife, Jacob Karns and wife, and Samuel Karns and wife. In 1826 a log church was built, on the ground occupied by the present church, built in 1866. The church has about 40 members and a Sunday-school, of which William Zimmerman is superintendent.

This church was in the Washington circuit for many years, and then in the Beaver circuit, and is now in the Salem circuit. It is under the same charge with Washingtonville and Franklin Square.

THE METHODIST CHURCH OF FRANKLIN SQUARE.

This church was organized about 1828. Preaching was first held in a log house which was used for a school. The church was built about 1830. The ministers in charge have also the care of the Washingtonville and Hart churches. The church has about 80 members.

METHODIST CHURCH OE WASHINGTONVILLE.

Watson Ruckman, John Robins, Philip Houtz, and their wives constituted the first class in this village. Watson Ruckman was chosen leader. The first meeting was held in the house of Philip Houtz, in 1844. Services for some time were held in barns and houses. Rev. John M. Murray was the first pastor. Rev. Wm. H. Pierson is now in charge. The present house of worship was built in 1872–73. The church has about 50 members and a Sunday-school of 80 pupils, Joseph C. Byerly superintendent. This church and the Franklin Square and Hart's churches are under one charge.

Hi Carolyn,

I'm not sure what our connection is; I listed you as a "distant cousin" of my mother Lois Ferguson and myself so that I could use the "in common with" relationship. It doesn't work if you haven't specified a relationship. You and I share ancestry with Freda Schreffler, Susan Hourigan, and Kutrinka Crowder. Do you know how you are related to any of them? I'm not sure about the Culver line. My Anna Culver was born about 1782 in Morris County, NJ. I haven't been able to trace her further back yet.

We do share two other surnames from my mother's family: Stoll and Partridge. Maria Elisabeth Stoll (c1740-c1798) married Johann Nicholas Frankforter in Lancaster Co, PA. She died in Baltimore, MD. Anna Partridge, daughter of Samuel Partridge and Deborah Rose, was born in Preston, New London Co., CT, in 1730, and married Samuel Tracy there in 1755. Do either of these two families fit into yours?

Carolyn, Hi, Freda is a cousin to me by my grandfathers family, her mother was Bertha Tittle Hostler, and her dad was William Hostler. My grandfather was Berthas Brother John Roy Tittle, I believe their mother was a Mary Chestnut from Altoona Pa. area. I would love to see what you have and I will help you try to make the connection. I did Freda because I do not know my biological father and my mom lived with my grandfathers family for a time, and as sick as it is, I just had to rule out my grandfather, I didn't really think he would be my dad, I was told my dad was a soldier from WW 2 but with so many brick walls I had to rule out everyone, and I still don't know who my dad was! I probably never will. My grandpa..John Roy Tittle and his sister Aunt Bertha were very loving, hard working mountain people. Freda has two living daughters who are also Mt. people..LOL..there names are Carla and Marian Schreffer. Fredas husband was William Schreffer. They also had a son killed about age 5 who ran out in front of a car. Do you have any Tittles/ or Hostlers ? Thanks for the email. Even tho these people aren't blood to me I consider them family.

I recently got the results of my Family Finder DNA test, and my closest match was Mrs. Freda Schreffler, possibly a 3rd cousin. No other information was given than your e-mail address, so I contacted you in hope that you are a relative of Mrs. Schreffler and, possibly, me. A number of my ancestors came to Indiana from Pennsylvania. Would a list of surnames help?

Carolyn, Like my names, yours seem greek to me, I really think for what DNA cost it has long strides to go!! I appreicate your efforts and I am sure you are probably distantly somehow related to her, I hope one day DNA can improve. About Mt. people, she would be in the Juniata Co. Mts. not Perry Co. I do however live in Perry Co. and am familar with the name Shatto. Thank you again for your correspondence, I am sorry I can't tell you more. If you come up with any Tittles or Hostlers you will be in the same family as Freda..Like I said her mothers maiden name was Tittle and she married that William Hostler..keep in touch...Teena

Here's a partial list of surnames: Rensch, Miller, Aldrich, Jackman, Vail, Everts, Haynes, Parsons, Rhodes, Slentz, Pollard, Days, Kugler, Putt, Shaffer, Getz, Polm/Palm, Anstett, Stofer, Brugh/Bruch, Clemens, Kerstetter/Carstetter, McBride, Shatto, Linah, Shade and Leonard. Hostler and Tittle are unknown to me, but there are a few dead ends in my list - others go on and on. I guess there are other spellings for Clemens, too, and I don't know which is correct for our family. Rensch & Miller and Anstett & Stofer were immigrant couples - Freda and I are probably not connected through them.

When you speak of mountain people, what mountain area are you thinking of? Henry Shatto said that he married Catherine Linah in Carlisle (I haven't found a record), but I think he may have had Perry Co. connections, too.

Subject: Hostler/Hassler puzzle

I think I've got it - sort of. I took a good look at my Berks Co. families, specifically the Putt family. My 2nd great grandfather, George Washington Putt, born in 1814, had either 3 or 4 sisters. One of them, Susan Putt, married Elijah Hassler (b. ca 1833, d. 1910), and they had 2 sons, Charles, b. ca 1860 and Elijah, b. ca 1866. I haven't been able to tie either of them to William Hostler, but it seems to me that, last night, while I was searching from William and Bertha Hostler, that I saw a Charles Hostler come up. I can't repeat it this morning, so I'm going to put it on the back burner for now. Anyway, I believe that Freda and I really are 3rd cousins.

I find it interesting that it is through the Putt family that she and I connect, because it was to prove another Putt connection that I took the DNA test. I'm not sure that the other party has yet taken the test, so I'm anxiously waiting.

Have you had your own DNA tested? While there is no guarantee that someone in your father's family has been tested, DNA testing is still in its early stages, and many people are just beginning to learn about it - so maybe someday you will hear from a relative.

Good luck -
Carolyn

Hmm. My Parsons family is from Virginia, as are my Moores. Clark is from New England. My Ann Compton married a Moses C. Miller. I believe I read somewhere that the Comptons at least came from New Jersey. They went to Ontario/Tompkins Counties in New York and then to Ohio. Ann's brother Reuben married Moses Miller's sister Sally.

I will check your Ancestry tree. Mine is also there at http://trees.ancestry.com/tree/48978631/family but I don't have Compton on it because I had not verified the information.

Stoll shows up only once: Elsbeth Stoll married Christian Zwahlen. According to my records, they were Swiss. Their son, Johannes Zwalle, born before 1711, was probably married more than once, the last time to Anna Catherine Schaffer (1769-1825, and I believe her father's Christian name was Michael, but I haven't been able to identify which Michael.) Their daughter, Catherine Schwalley, (note various spellings of that surname, which has made searching a pain) married Peter Palm. According to information passed down in my family, "Polm" is the correct spelling for that surname. Peter Palm/Polm and Catherine Schwalley had a daughter, Elizabeth Polm, who married Johann Nicholas Getts (Getz, Goetz, etc.) Their daughter, Sarah Ann Getts, married George Washington Putt.

Hi Carolyn,

I do have German ancestry from Berks County but looking up your George Washington Putt I can't find the connection. What do you know about the Shaffers? Where does your Stoll name fit in? My Maria Elisabeth (Stoll) Frankforter had a granddaughter Catherine who married a Shafer in Columbiana County, Ohio, in 1816. That's as close as I can get! This is frustrating. :)

So far, no one I know has been able to get beyond George's parents, who were Jacob Putt and Catherine Shaffer. I will have to look up the other names. Thanks for sharing, Stephanie.

Interesting. Here's what I found in "Hassler Families and Where They Came From" by Helen H. Dempsey: "Frederick Hassler...married Catherine Palm, daughter of Johannes Palm on May 26, 1772...Served in the Revolution, in Capt. Conrad Weiser's Company of the 6th Battalion of Berks Co. Or do you think that this author has made a wrong connection?

Interesting. Here's what I found in "Hassler Families and Where They Came From" by Helen H. Dempsey: "Frederick Hassler...married Catherine Palm, daughter of Johannes Palm on May 26, 1772...Served in the Revolution, in Capt. Conrad Weiser's Company of the 6th Battalion of Berks Co. Militia, 4th Class...Johannes Palm also served in the Revolution." Have you seen any evidence of two Johannes Palms serving in the Revolution? Or do you think that this author has made a wrong connection?

Hello, Kevin, Your Catherine Elizabeth Palm and Johan Frederick Hassler (born January 1748 or January 1749; died 8 March 1829 in Tilden Township, Berks County,PA) had one son, John Hassler. He was born 1 August 1773 and died 9 June 1815 in Berne Township,Berks County. He married Rachel Rickert (who died 1847, in upper Berne Township,Berks County, Pennsylvania). They had one daughter ,Katherine, born around 1800. This information comes from Robert Eby Ford, whose source got it from Hasler Families and Where They Came From ,by Helen Hassler Dempsey. Dr. John Palm

To Dr. John Palm (1713-1799) is given the credit for the founding of Palmyra. He has been called, and rightly so, Palmyra's First Citizen, because of his prominence as a frontier doctor, a soldier, and as a citizen of long standing in the early community.

A brief story of the life of Dr. John Palm is worthy of our attention. He was the eldest son of Matthias and Sybylla Palm, born in Heilbronn, in the Electorate of Brandenburg, in the Kingdom of Bavaria, July 15, 1713 (according to Bindnagle Church Record) not in 1718 according to his pass in 1742. About the year 1739 he took up residence at Backnag, near Stuttgard, in Wurtemberg, where he married Christiana Dorothea Kern, August 2, 1740. His parents being poor, he worked in a stocking factory for several years.

Returning from a trip to Amsterdam, Holland in 1742, John Palm began the study of medicine in Wurtemberg. Doubtless he was aided by friends and relatives. A number of the members of the Palm family clan were physicians and druggists in Wurtemberg at that time.

He left his native country for America and arrived at the port of Philadelphia August 11, 1750, as a passenger of the "Ship Patience" under Captain Hugh Steel, from Rotterdam, late from Cowes in England. Bindnagle Church record has his arrival in 1749.
He first settled in the upper part of New Jersey, in the vicinity of Elizabeth and Springfield. His first wife having died, he married Catharine Salome Fenger about the year 1754. She died in 1764.
On June 17, 1766 he secured his 100 acre tract of land from Conrad Raisch, it being the third transfer of title since the time it was surveyed to Johannes Deininger in 1751. This tract can be located today roughly by the boundaries of North Railroad Street on the east, West Maple Street on the south, and the Dauphin County line on the west. The house stood about the center of the 100 block on West Main Street.
When the Revolutionary War broke out he was too old to take an active part in the battle, although he was at the Battle of Brandywine, September 11, 1777. He was probably attached to General Green's Division, which was posted as a reserve, between Sullivan and Wayne, to reinforce either division as circumstances might require. He used to relate how Washington, on a white horse, came riding up, encouraging his men. On the 27th of September, 1777 he took the Oath of Allegiance and Fidelity, under the Act of Legislature of 1777 before Justice of-the-Peace John Thome.
About the year 1785 or 1790, Dr. Palm was married a third time, to Elizabeth Williams, a widow.

She was born in Germany, probably about the year 1733. Her life was quite an eventful one, as will appear from the following, taken from the History of Berks and Lebanon Counties, page 72. "Hanover, Lancaster Co., Pa., August 11th, 1757 ... Monday, 8th. On Wednesday we intended to rest, but at about 12 o'clock had another alarm. Near Benhamin Clarke house, four miles from the mill, two indians surprised Isaac Williams's wife and the WIDOW WILLIAMS. They killed and scalped the former, in sight of the house. She having run a little way, after three balls had been shot through her body. The latter they carried away as a captive."

In the Colonial Records for 1762, at page 750, Vol. VIII, the following account is given of her restoration. "At a conference with the Northern Indians, held at Lancaster, on Thursday, the 19th of, August, 1762.... the Conference then broke up, and the Governor, his Council, and the Commissioners, went with some Indian Chiefs, to the Court House, to receive the prisoners. Whence having come, the Governor, acquainted Thomas King, that he was ready to receive the prisoners from him, and that they need not be under apprehensions of being used ill, for that he should be kind to them, and treat them like children and restore them to their parents and relatives. Then they delivered to Lt. Governor Hamilton, Esq., (under Hon. Thomas Penn and Richard Penn, Proprietors of the Province of Pennsylvania) at the hands of King Beaver, ELIZABETH WILLIAMS, a young woman, delivered up by Mussause, a Muncy Indian; also Henry Williams about 18 years, a half brother (?) to Elizabeth Williams, delivered by Canyhocheratoquin, a Munch." She had, therefore, been a captive amongst the Delaware or Lenni Lenape tribe, for five years. An account of her restoration to her friends, is also given in the History of Berks and Lebanon Counties, on page 345. After her marriage to Dr. Palm, he, often in a playful way, called her his "Indian Squaw." She died at the house of William Early, near Palmyra, November 25 or 26, 1815.

Dr. John Palm's three marriages resulted in these children: John George Palm, Jr., a son of the first marriage; William, Peter, Jacob, Nicholas, Andrew, and Mary, children of his second marriage; and Tobias, only child of the third marriage. Several other children born to the family died in infancy.

He had an extensive practice, and owing to the country being thinly settled, it was very laborious. Patients frequently came from long distances to consult Dr. Palm. The medicines he used were mostly of vegetable extraction. Having an extensive laboratory he prepared most of his medicines. He distilled his own essential oils, waters, etc. from herbs and flowers. He was a contemporary of Linnaeus, Cullen, DeHaen, Sauwages, and Vn Sweiten. His medical works were mostly by German authors. One of his books, in possession of Dr. 0. R. Palm, (in 1870), a work on Materia Medica, is probably 300 years old. On the inside of the cover is a record of his birth, death, and place of nativity. In his Pass of February 24, @1771 he is described as being "24 years of age, medium size, light hair, and wearing a brown coat, etc." He was baptized and confirmed into the Lutheran Church. He died at Palmyra on April 25, 1799, at the age of 85 years, 9 months, after having practiced medicine in this country for almost 50 years.

In order that the location of the grave of Dr. John Palm would not be lost to posterity, the first plain headstone having long ago crumbled and weathered away, another marker was unveiled at the gravesite at Bindnagle Cemetery on Sunday, July 24, 1932. The program was under the auspices of American Legion Post No. 72 with appropriate ceremonies. Mrs. S. M. Aument of Montoursville, PA, a great-great-great-great granddaughter of Dr. Palm unveiled the new marker, and the Hon. G. H. Moyer delivered the address.

To further assure that the name of Dr. John Palm would be remembered by the citizens of the town he founded, a massive memorial boulder was erected on a triangle on South Railroad Street on Sunday, November 20, 1932, under the combined efforts of the Washington Bi-Centennial Committee, and the Lebanon County Historical Society. Prominent persons from Harrisburg, Washington, D.C. and New Jersey were present, and stirring speeches were made to a crowd of over 1,000 persons. Dr. Cyrus H. Leslie, the town's last surviving Civil War veteran, at the age of 91, unveiled the boulder. Dr. Howard Palm, Camden, New Jersey, a direct descendant of Dr. John Palm, and Mrs. E. S. Nissley of Harrisburg, PA, a descendant of the Palm family on both her father and mother's side, were present at the ceremony.

In a case of bastardy tried in the colony in 1639, the Court ordered as follows: "John Edwards, Aaron Stark, and John Williams were censured for unclean practices as follows:

John Edwards and John Williams to stand upon the pillory from the ringing of the first bell to the end of the lecture--then to be whipped at the cart's tail, and to be whipped in a like manner in Windsor in eight days following.

Aaron Starks, to stand upon the pillory and be whipped as Williams, and to have the letter R burnt upon his cheek, and in regard to the wrong done to Mary Holt, to pay her parents œ10 and in defect of such to the commonwealth; and it is the will of the Court that Mr. Ludlow, and Mr. Phelps see some punishment inflicted upon the girl for concealing it so long.

Branding was a form of punishment not uncommon--burglarly and highway robbery was blazoned with the letter B-A. 2nd. offence by second branding, and a severe whipping.

Peabody & Crafts; from 1884 to 1887, with Frank Tillinghast, under the name of Crafts & Tillinghast; and subsequently alone. Since October, 1906, he has had his office in Providence. In politics Mr. Crafts has been a Republican. In 1901 he was a candidate for the nomination of state senator and was loyally supported by his friends, but was defeated, In November, 1903, he was elected first representative in the general assembly of Rhode Island, and became a member of the judiciary committee. He was a delegate to the Republican national convention at Chicago in 1904. He was re‰lected to the general assembly in 1904, receiving in the caucus the largest majority ever given a candidate in Westerly. He was again appointed on the judiciary committee. Mr. Craft is an able and convincing public speaker, and it has been said that he was the most eloquent speaker in the Rhode Island legislature since the days of Tristram Burgess. An editorial supporter of Mr. Crafts has written:

Westerly's leading lawyer has always been a strong, consistent party man. * * * He is in no sense a politician and would receive no additional honors by representing Westerly in the General Assembly, but with Mr. Crafts in the capitol at Providence as representative. Westerly would take a front rank in State affairs, simply through his ability, force of character and the wellknown law that makes men of worth and energy gravitate naturally towards the top. Mr. Crafts does things; he is a tireless worker of tremendous energy and at every opportunity he has been on the right side of important questions in which the people have been interested; without detracting from the able assistance rendered by his colleagues it is safe to say it was mainly through his splendid work on the water works cases that the happy end of the litigation resulted. The popular counselor has a large following.

Mr. Crafts married (first) October 1, 1881. Jennie Louise Blake, of Ashaway, Rhode Island; she died November 19, 1884. He married (second) December 17, 1892, Mary Amittai Stark, of Mystic, Connecticut (see Stark). They have one child, Alberta Barnard, born July 6, 1901; who is a member of the Joseph Buchlin Chapter of the Children of the American Revolution, and of the National Society, Children's Branch of the Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims, being a direct descendant on the maternal side of Myles Standish. John Alden and Priscilla Mullins.

(The Stark Line).

The family of Stark is of ancient Scotch origin. The ancestry of the Scotch family is traced to Murhead, in Bothwick, in 1100. In 1347 his lineal descendant Murhead was created lord of Lacrope. In 1480, John Murhead, son of the lord of Lacrope, was named John Stark, signifying great strength.

Aaron Stark, the immigrant ancestor, was settled at Hartford as early as 1639, and was of Windsor in 1643, finally locating at New London. His name is found in Mystic as early as 1650, being among the Stonington men who took the freeman's oath in 1666. He bought a farm near the head of the Mystic river of William Thompson, the Pequot missionary, and was included within the boundaries of New London. Neither marriage or children are found on the vital records, but the probate records show that he had sons, Aaron, John and William, and that his daughters married John Fish and Josiah Haynes. His wife was probably Mary Holt. He was a soldier in King Philip's war, and received a grant of land at Volunton, Connecticut, for his services. He died in 1685. His descendants have been numerous at Mystic, Connecticut, and vicinity.

(I) Daniel Stark, a descendant of Aaron, was born, lived and died at Mystic, Connecticut. He married Elizabeth Frink. He was a quiet, earnest and upright man, deacon in the Baptist church, and a prosperous farmer in Mystic all his active life.

(II) Jonathan, son of Daniel Stark, was born in Mystic. He was a farmer in his native town, highly respected in the community. He was deacon of the Baptist church. He married Betsey Reed. Children: Eliza, Emily, Julia, J. Russell, mentioned below, and William.

(III) James Russell, son of Jonathan Stark, was born at Mystic, Connecticut, and attended the public schools there. He learned the trade of carpenter and followed it for a number of years. He became a builder and contractor in his native town. He was a successful man of business, and commanded the respect and confidence of his townsmen. He was always interested in politics, and was a prominent Democrat, but never sought or held office. He was a member of the Baptist church, generous in charity and popular among all classes of men. He married Mary A. Williams, daughter of Philo and Amittai (Blake) Williams. Two children reached maturity: 1. James Ellis, married Caroline North Murphy, and had Lloyd Rider and Whitney Williams. 2. Mary Amittai, married Albert Barnard Crafts (see Crafts). She is a member of Rhode Island Independence Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and of the National Society of Sons and Daughters of Pilgrims, being a direct descendant on maternal side of Myles Standish, John Alden and Priscilla Mullins.

First Puritan settlers of Connecticut, Tobacco Law of Connecticut in 1647

Capt. John Mason was the first Major General in Connecticut, with a salary of £40 per annum, paid out of the public treasury quarterly, to train the men ten days each year, 1637.

In 1637 all measures were regulated by law.

The first house built in Windsor, was called the Plymouth house.

The first highway laid out by order of the General Court was located between Hartford and Windsor, and made fit for horse and cart in 1638.

Thomas Stanton was the first public officer appointed to attend courts upon all occasions, General, Particular and meeting of Magistrates, as interpreter between the whites and Indians, (1638) at £10 per annum.

The first formal duty paid, was a duty of one shilling on each beaver skin, half yearly, to the public treasury, (1638.)

Oaths were formed for the Governor, magistrates and constables by law, in 1638; before this, the forms used in England, for constables, &c., were used here.

The first General Court legally organized and holden under the Articles of Confederation between the towns of Hartford, Windsor and Wethersfield, was in April, 1639.

The first person who applied to the General Court for remuneration for injuries done to private property by the Indians, was Edward or Eltwed Pomeroy, of Windsor, for a horse killed by the Indians, for which he was allowed, in 1639, £10.

The first case of bastardy punished in the colony, was that of Aaron Stark and Mary Holt, in 1639, (page 75.)

The first writ of attachment issued by the Court against the goods of a debtor, to hold them in security for a debt, was against Thomas James, for five pounds of tobacco, in 1639. This was the first law of attachment in Connecticut.

The first auditors of public accounts, after the Confederation, were Gov. Welles, William Hill and Andrew Ward, in 1639.

Edward Hopkins was the first attorney of record. He appeared in Court for John Woodcock, as plaintiff, in 1639.

Roger Ludlow, Deputy Governor, was fined 5 shillings for being absent from the General Court in September, 1639.

The first court constituted for Poquonnuck, was in October, 1639, to try cases of less than 40 shillings, with the right of appeal.

The first revision of the Laws of the colony was made by Governor Wyllys, Welles, and William Spencer, in 1639.

I ought to ment. that some slight uncert. is felt, whether this man were s. of Abraham, since Weymouth rec. show, that one JOHN there m. 7 June 1658, Sarah Waters, and he may have been s. of Abraham, and this h. of Alice have been br. of Abraham. However, as he nam. his eldest, or sec. s. Abraham (wh. serv. as a soldier on Conn. riv. Mar. 1676), my assumpt. may be good. JOHN, Malden, a tailor, had John, b. 16 Dec. 1667; and w. in 1670, Hannah, wh. d. 8 Apr. 1674; and he m. 12 Aug. foll. Eliz. Ramsdell. Hannah had John, b. 16 Dec. 1679, wh. prob. d. young; Abraham, 14 Feb. 1685; Hannah, 26 Apr. 1687; John, again, 20 Jan. 1690; Mary, 5 May 1691; and Benjamin, 25 July 1693. JOHN, Weymouth, perhaps cous. ger. of John the sec. of the same, and s. of John or Joseph, but of wh. I am ign. by w. Judith had Eliz. b. 26 Sept. 1687; Joseph, 11 Jan. 1692; Judith, 4 May 1693; and Abigail, 17 July 1695; perhaps others. Whatever doubt of identi. as to one or ano. Subject: Shaw - Dedham, MA, Halifax, England

Posted by: Deborah Shaw Masonde

Message: Patti,

Saw your msg. Are you related to Abraham Shaw, who died Dedham or Cambridge, MA, 1638/39, married Elizabeth 'Bridget' Best, & is son of Thomas Shaw & Elizabeth Longbotham of Northowram, Halifax, England? I am descended from Abraham's son John, by 2 of John Shaw & Alice Phillips sons: John & Nicholas Shaw.

If so, through which of their children are you descended from? I'm very interested and have 1000s of Shaw names from MA, other New England states, New Brunswick & Nova Scotia, a few from New York.

Deborah

When he first came to America he went to Watertown, Massachusetts, where he was a proprietor in 1636; his house was burned in October of that year, whereupon he seems to have removed to Dedham, where he was a constable in 1636-37-38. and was admitted a freeman March 9, 1637. Mary, supposed to be his wife, was admitted to the church at Charlestown, July 1, 1646. He died in 1638, and his will, made November of that year, was proved before the end of the year. THOMPSON, THOMSON, TOMPSON, TOMSON,

Mr. David, who, with the Hiltons, founded New Hampshire, was a fishmonger at London, though of Scotch birth, and came to Piscataqua in 1623 "to begin a plantation," as Hubbard tells us. The phrase implies that he had such companions and furnishings as would be adapted to shore life as well as the fishing business; probably none of the company brought their wives and children at first but had them brought over on later voyages of the ships which carried fish and other commodities back to England. Captain Thompson doubtless made many voyages across the ocean as well as coastwise. Bradford tells of his going along with some Plymouth men to "Damarinscove" to traffic for the goods of a ship-wrecked Frenchman in 1626, mentioning him as then dwelling at Piscataqua. Not far from that time he went to Boston harbor and bought an island called Trevour's Island, which was afterward called by his own name, and erected a habitation there. He died not long after that date, according to testimony given in Court when the title of the island was confirmed to the son in 1648.

He married at Plymouth, Eng. July 13, 1613, Amyas Colle (Amias Cole) who survived him and married second Mr. Samuel Maverick, who was at Boston Bay about 1625 and came into possession of the island called Noddle's Island, now East Boston. Mrs. Maverick joined her second husband in a deed in 1632; in 1633 she wrote a letter to Mr. Robert Trelawney, alluding to her first husband's friendship for him and to her "fatherless children" by Mr. Thompson. The only one of these children known to us is John, who obtained the island above-mentioned after it had been in the possession of citizens of Dorchester and its income the foundation of the free school of that town in 1641. So the name of Thomson was prominent in the pioneer annals of two colonies.

It is particularly suitable that New-Hampshire people should honor the memory of this enterprising man.

Miles, Senior, carpenter, Kittery, signed the petition to Cromwell in 1657; was one of the selectmen in 1659. Bought land adjoining to some previously possessed of John Morrall, plasterer, 12 May, 1663; bought other land in partnership with Israel Hodgsden, of Abraham Tilton and Mary his wife. Deeded land Dec. 4, 1694, to sons Bartholomew and Thomas, the latter to maintain himself and his wife Ann.

Rev. William, some time curate of the church at Winwick, Eng. came to this land in 1636 or 1637. Joined the church of Dorchester, Mass. of which his friend Rev. Richard Mather was pastor. Preached a while at Accomenticus, [Kittery]; removed to Braintree, Mass. and was installed as pastor with Rev. Henry Flint as teacher, Nov. 19, 1639. He was "a very gracious, sincere man, — an instrument of much good, — a man of much faith." [W.] See P. of M.

Note. In Piscataqua Files there is a well written letter from "Sam: Thomsonn," dated at "Taunton, March, 27th, lish, for the University of Leyden. Then Principal Fairbairn, of Mansfield College, Oxford, England, made a brief and eloquent closing address, after which the audience sang the well-known hymn by Mrs. Hemans beginning:—

> "The breaking waves dashed high
> On a stern and rock-bound coast," and Dr. Palmer concluded the service with the benediction.

This bare outline of the proceedings gives little more than the merest suggestion of the surpassing interest of the occasion. It is eminently fitting that this magazine should contain some record of it. As a work of art the tablet is most creditable alike to its designers, to those who erected it, to the city of Leyden, and to the memory of John Robinson. It is one of the objects which all strangers in the city are careful to visit, and it is a becoming tribute to the man who not only was, more than any one else, the inspiration of the Pilgrim enterprise, but also was an intellectual and spiritual leader far in advance of his contemporaries, and whose reputation to-day is far greater than it was during his lifetime.

DOCUMENTS AND RECORDS

RELATING TO THE

PROVINCE OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE,

FROM THE EARLIEST PERIOD OF ITS SETTLEMENT:

1623-1686.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE LEGISLATURE OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

1784

COMPILED AND EDITED BY

NATHANIEL BOUTON, D. D.,

Corresponding Secretary of the New-Hampshire Historical Society.

CONCORD:
GEORGE E. JENKS, STATE PRINTER.

the ill-carriage of his men at the Massachusetts, by which means the peace of the country was disturbed. Weston easily answered, that what was done in that behalf was done in his absence, and might have befallen any man. He left sufficiently provided, and considered they would have been well governed, and for any error committed he had sufficiently smarted.

Soon after this the said Capt. Gorges took his leave and went to the Massachusetts by land. His ship stayed at Plimouth and fitted to go to Virginia, having some passengers to deliver there. Capt. Gorges, after he had been at the eastward and expedited some occasions there, and some that depended on him, returned for England.

There were also some scattering beginnings made in other places [in 1623], as at Piscataqua, by Mr. David Thompson, and at Monhegin, and some other places by sundry others."

Sir Ferdinando Gorges, in his brief narration, ch. 23 (2 Maine His. Coll. 43), says: "The council were pleased to resolve of the sending some one into those parts as their Lieutenant, &c. Hereupon my son Robert Gorges, being newly come out of the Venetian war, was the man they were pleased to pitch upon, being one of the company, and interested in a proportion of the land with the rest of the patentees in the bay of Massechewset containing ten miles in breadth and thirty miles into the main land, who, between my Lord Gorges and myself, was speedily sent away into the said bay of Massechewet, where he arrived about the beginning of August following, anno 1623, that being the place he resolved to make his residence, as proper for the public as for his private, where landing his provisions and building his storehouses, he sent to them of New Plymouth, who, by his commission, were authorized to be his assistants, to come unto him who willingly obeyed his order and as carefully discharged their duties, by whose experience he suddenly understood what was to be done with the poor means he had, believing the supplies he expected would follow according to the undertakings of his friends, but they withdrew, and myself and friends were wholly disabled [by the proceedings in Parliament] to do anything to purpose; and he was advised to return home till better occasion should offer.

NOTE. These extracts from contemporary writers are made to meet allegations of the Massachusetts government and agents, that no seizin was delivered of Mason and Gorges Province, according to the grant, nor any possession taken under it.

Here Robert Gorges, appointed Attorney to deliver seizin, and David Thompson agent of the patentees, are shown to have been together at Little Harbor in 1623, "to expedite his occasions," and possession had been taken by Mason and Gorges by their agent Thompson, as well as by Hilton at Dover Neck, which there is no pretense was ever after abandoned.

Princes Annals 1626, 161, quoting Bradford, says: "Wanting proper goods [for the Indian trade], and understanding the plantation at Mohegan, belonging to some merchants of Plymouth [in England], is to break up, and divers goods to be sold, the governor with Mr. Winslow take a boat, and with some hands go thither. Mr. David Thompson, who lives at Piscataway, going with us on the same design, we agree to buy all their goods and divide them equally. Our moiety comes to £400; we also buy a parcel of goats," &c.

This shows the continuance of the settlement under Mr. Thompson at Piscattoway in 1626, and the purchase shows the character of its operations.

Ibid., 1627, 169. "With the return of the ships, we [the Plymouth people], says Bradford, send Mr. Allerton again to England (3) to get a patent for a fit trading place on Kennebeck River, especially since the planters at Piscatoway and other places eastward of 'em, as also the fishing ships envy our trading there, and threaten to get a patent to exclude us."

Belk., 1628: "The principal persons of Piscataqua readily united with their neighbors in making application to the colony of Plymouth, which was of more force than all the rest to put a stop to this growing mischief [the sale of fire-arms to the Indians], which they happily effected, by seizing Morton and sending him to England."

Of £12.10 expenses, Pascataquack paid £2.10, the same as Plymouth and Edward Hilton, £1.

DOCUMENTS AND FACTS

RELATING TO

SETTLEMENTS IN NEW-HAMPSHIRE,

FROM 1631 TO 1641,

PREVIOUS TO SUBMISSION TO THE GOVERNMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS.

PORTSMOUTH.

Previous to 1653, Portsmouth was known and called by the name of Strawberry Bank.[*] The river and harbor were called by the Indian name Piscataquack, variously spelled, Piscataquacke, Pascataqua, Pascataque, Piscataquay, and Piscataqua.

Here, probably, the first settlement was begun in New-Hampshire. But we can not fix the exact date. Of the state of the settlement previous to 1631, but little is known. Hubbard who wrote in 1680, says:

"Some merchants and other gentlemen in the west of England, belonging to the cities of Exeter, Bristol, Shrewsbury, and towns of Plymouth, Dorchester, &c., incited no doubt by the fame of the plantation begun at New Plymouth in the year 1620, having obtained patents for several parts of the country of New-England from the Grand

[*] "The bank of the river above where the Great House was built, and extending some distance above what is now called Church hill, produced a large quantity of strawberries, on which account it was called Strawberry Bank, and Portsmouth was frequently called by the inhabitants of the neighboring towns, The 'Bank,' until the middle of the 18th century." Ad. Ann., p. 21.

Council established at Plymouth (into whose hands the whole country was committed), made some attempt of beginning a plantation in some place about Piscataqua river, about the year 1623. For being encouraged by the report of divers mariners that came to make fishing voyages upon that coast, as well as by the aforementioned occasion, they sent over that year, one Mr. David Thompson,[*] with Mr. Edward Hilton and his brother Mr. William Hilton,[†] who had been fishmongers in London, with some others, that came along with them, furnished with necessaries for carrying on a plantation there. Possibly others might be sent after them in the years following 1624 and 1625; some of whom first in probability, seized on a place called the Little Harbor on the west side of Pascataqua river, toward or at the mouth thereof,[‡] the Hiltons in the meanwhile setting up their stages higher up the river, toward

[*] Thompson, or Tomson, was a Scotchman. He was living at Piscataqua in 1626; and then, removed to the Massachusetts Bay, and took possession of an Island, which received his name, and still is known as Thompson's Island. See Farm. Belk., p. 5.

[†] Edward Hilton and his brother William were the first planters in that part of New-Hampshire called Dover Neck. Savage, in 1 Winth. Hist., note 116, says, "The name of Edward Hilton, who was a gentleman of good judgment, is often found in our history; and in 1641, when Massachusetts usurped the jurisdiction of the colony of New-Hampshire, he became a magistrate." He was a man of enterprise and influence; possessed the friendship of Governor Winthrop of Mass., and was his confidential correspondent. He may be considered the father of the settlement of New-Hampshire; at least of Dover and vicinity. Before 1652, he became an inhabitant of Exeter; where he died, 1671, at a considerably advanced age. See Hist. Coll. N. H., vol. II, p. 54; also a Biogr. sketch of Col. Winthrop Hilton, Hist. Coll. N. H., Vol. I, p. 241. William Hilton, "was at Plymouth in 1621; at Dover 1623; at Newbury about 1648; at Charlestown, Ms., 1665, and there probably died, 1675." Farm. in Holmes An., p. 183, Vol. I, note. ED.

[‡] Tradition has well preserved the exact location. Brewster says—see Ramble II, p. 16, "Odiorne's Point was the spot selected by the Laconia Company for the site of the first building erected on the grant. The Manor house was a little north of the hillock which was between it and the ocean; and on that elevation there was a small fort built to protect from savage incursions."

returned to Dorchester, perhaps after the death of his sister, Elizabeth, as some of his children were born there, and he was both the schoolteacher and town clerk of Dorchester, holding the latter office for ten years. The name commonly became spelled Poole in New England.

The NER Roll of Arms, 1932, shows No. 75 to be that of Captain William Pole of Dorchester, Mass. The arms are described as: "azure, semée of fleurs-de-lis." The NER illustration does not include the central figure of "a lion rampant argent" which Matthews gives for him in the Complete American Armoury & Blue Book. Matthews also includes the crest, as: "a lion's gamb erased gules, armed or."

BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS, PRIOR TO MAY 1, 1848.

REGISTERED IN THE TOWN OF AMHERST, BY JAMES W. BOYDEN, TOWN CLERK.

Family of Dickinson

This numerous family sprung from one Nathaniel Dickinson who is supposed by S. Judd of Northampton to have been born on the east coast of England, perhaps on the isle of Ely. His wife's name was Anne. They had three sons born in Great Britain and came with them, about 1636, to Wethersfield, Connecticut. They settled at Wethersfield and there had six more sons and one daughter. They subsequently moved to Hadley, in Massachusetts, where Mr. Nathaniel Dickinson died on the 16th. of June, 1676.

Second Generation.

Children of Nathaniel and Anne Dickinson.

son, of Chicago, he was elected by acclamation. Dr. Moore was born at Strasburg, Penn., in 1823, was graduated from Yale College in 1847, and was a private student in theology while principal of the Fairfield Seminary, in Connecticut. He was licensed to preach in 1850, and began his pastoral life in the First Presbyterian Church, of West Chester, Penn., where he remained from 1850 to 1872, when he accepted a call to the Second Church, of Columbus, Ohio, which he also served twenty-two years. In April, 1894, on the completion of his seventieth year, he resigned his pastorate, and since that time has been acting as pastor emeritus. Dr. Moore has prepared four digests of the General Assembly, "The New School Digest," in 1861, "The Digest of 1873, after the Reunion," "The Digest of 1886, after the Adoption of the Book of Discipline," and "The Digest of 1898." In addition to his other faithful work for the Presbyterian Church, Dr. Moore served as a member of the committees which formed the Book of Discipline, and which prepared a revision of the Confession of Faith and the Consensus Creed, the latter committee having been raised during his term as Moderator. He was also a member of the Council of the Pan-Presbyterian Alliance, in 1877, 1888, and 1892. Marietta College gave him the degree of S.T.D. in 1873, and Lake Forest added the title of LL.D. in 1892. In speaking of his work recently to a friend, Dr. Moore said, with characteristic modesty: "My public work for the Church is about done. How well done the Master will decide. He has been a good Master, and his Church has honored me more than I deserve."*

† Had brothers and sisters Thomas, Nathaniel, Levi, Evan, Keziah, Elizabeth, Sarah.

‡ The name is invariably spelled Moor in the public records and in the family bible.

§ From records of the First Presbyterian Church, Easton, Pa.

Thomas Makepeace had six children by his first wife. Thomas, the eldest, returned to England. The second son was William who married Ann Johnson on 23 May 1661. The other four were daughters, the youngest of whom was named "Waitawhile". He married, second, a Mrs. Elizabeth Mellows, and by her had a son, Joseph, born 1646, died 1666. Thomas died in January or February 1667. His estate as listed in his will was valued at over 291 pounds (18).

It is not known where Thomas came from in England but he may have descended from "Abel Makepeace, Esq.", who, as noted above, married a daughter of Laurence Washington, Esq., of Gray's Inn, Mayor of Northampton in 1545 (18).

Son William Makepeace was a cooper's apprentice in 1653, later probably lived for some time on Block Island after his father's death. After that he lived at Freetown. Anne, who married James Edmester (Edminster), was the fourth of five children. In 1679 he had acquired "...a large tract of land on the Taunton River..." which was "...a half share of the one and twentieth lott on the Easterly side of the said Taunton River, being, by estimation, about 100 rods wide and four miles long from the said river Eastwards...on the Swanzey side..." Presumably this is separate from the 15th lot of the original 26 lots of "Ye Freeman's Purchase" bought in 1659 from Wamsitti and his squaw Tattapanum. No. 15 was first bought by Josiah Winslow, Sr., son of Gov. Edward Winslow. He sold it to William Makepeace in 1661 (23).

William Makepeace drowned in 1681 when about 48 years old as he and four others were crossing from Mattapoisett to Assonet when the leaky "canoe" capsized when "...the wind riseing caused a great sea..." His estate totalled over 180 pounds including house, land, cattle, swine and smaller items such as pewter, brass, iron, barrels, bags, keggs, pails, tubbs, bridell and saddle, two guns, two bibles, plow and churn (18).

A deed of 29 October 1688 by William Makepeace, Jr., to his sister Ann, who later married James Edmester, covered about 100 acres "...within the precincts of Freetown..." (18)

The only other reference to the children of the original John Edminster has already been briefly noted: Prudence, who was born in 1667-8, married Joseph Pike in 1689 (8). Thus, 1689 was an eventful year in the family - Prudence and James were married and Mary got arrested.

Now I wish to turn to another source of information on James, son of the original John. In 1905, one Samuel B. Moore, a descendent of an Edminster Moore who lived in New Jersey in 1769, corresponded with Mrs. Mandana Edminster Ramsay of Boston. Her son, Charles Merle Ramsay, allowed me to copy this correspondence. Mr. Moore had arranged with a Mr. J. H. Evans of Freetown to search town and church records there. Mr. Evans turned his results over to Freetown Town Clerk, Joseph S. Taylor who transmitted them to Mr. Moore in a letter of 7 April 1905. Mr. Moore in a letter to Mrs. Ramsay of 5 June 1905 states: "James Edminster was married to Ann A., Daughter of William Makepeace and wife Ann Johnson, April 19, 1689, the ceremony being performed by Major Thom. Leonard, of Taunton. William Makepeace was drowned in August 1681, or nearly eight years before the marriage of his daughter with James Edminster. The daughter received as her share of her father's landed estate about 100 acres, some of which has since been known as 'The Fox Fields'. Ann, daughter of James and Ann Edminster, married Seth Smith, of Fridove...Nov. 13, 1712. William, son of James and Ann Edminster, married Mary Paul, of Dighton,...Oct. 1, 1737." Another reference (16) includes the marriage of Anne Edminster (Edmister) and Seth Smith at Taunton on 13

November 1712. Also, William's marriage to Mary Paul at Freetown on 1 October 1737 by Sylvester Richmond, Esq., is recorded elsewhere (24). Mary Paul likely was descended from Richard Paul who came to Boston from England, probably from Suffolk, before 1650 (20). She was among four Mary Pauls (Paull) of Dighton who were married between 1733 and 1742 (25).

Third Generation

These records clarify two of the children of James and Ann, namely Anne and William. Hannah, already mentioned, was a third child of theirs. But this is as far as the records are clear as to this family. No other reference to Edminsters in this period tie clearly to James and Ann or to other parents. Three other Edminster girls who were contemporaries of Hannah and Anne in this, the third generation, were probably daughters of James and Ann and sisters of William, Anne and Hannah. It is, of course, possible that they were daughters of John Edminster, 2nd, or of some unknown Edminster, but this is improbable. Their records are: Rebecah Edmaster and Eleazer Treadway, both of Freetown, were married on 26 February 1723-4 (26). This is recorded in the same paragraph that also tells of the marriage of Hannah Edmister to Christopher Phox, both of Freetown. This marriage has already been noted from another reference wherein both names were spelled differently. Both marriages, as recorded in the Genealogical Advertizer, were performed by the same person. Hence they were probably sisters and thus Rebecah was probably a daughter of James and Ann. Later in the same reference (26), Thankfull Edmister is recorded as marrying Thomas Freelove, Jr., on 25 November 1731. She is likely another daughter of James and Ann. Lastly, Deliverance Admister and Samuel Hammond were married 5 November 1730 in Rochester, Plymouth County, Massachusetts, by Rev. Timothy Ruggles (24) (27). The first of these two references about Deliverance was found under "EDMINSTER (see Admister)". She, too, may be another daughter of James and Ann.

There were two more male members of this third generation whose identities we arrive at by indirection. First, a son, James, Jr., or at least James, 2nd. The fourth generation has a James Edminster, Jr. who was married to Miriam Phillips at Freetown in 1761 (28). He thus had a father named James who would have been a contemporary of William, Anne, Hannah, et al, and probably was another child of James and Ann. Further evidence derived from the Freetown records cited in a letter from Samuel B. Moore to Mandana Ramsay of 26 April 1905 lists the children of James and Mary Edminster who were born between 1734 and 1746. This places this James and Mary clearly in the third generation with William and the others.

The second of the two sons (probable) of James and Ann whose connection is derived by circumstantial evidence was Joseph. We learn of him through several records of the Axtell family of Massachusetts and New Jersey. One Thankful Axtell, widow, living in Mendham Township, Morris County, New Jersey made out her will on 29 August 1749 in which she bequeathed, "4ly, I give unto my grandson Ichabod Edmester my brown cow." (71) Searching further Axtell records, we find that Daniel Axtell (1673-1736), son of Thomas Axtell, married Thankful Pratt, daughter of Rev. Elder William Pratt of Massachusetts and South Carolina on 12 May 1702, probably in South Carolina. This is the same Thankful Axtell whose will is quoted above. She had a large family, among whom was Hannah Axtell, born 10 April 1710 in Massachusetts, probably Berkley, and who married on 10 February 1741, probably in Massachusetts, Joseph Edmister (72, 73). The Ichabod Edmester is clearly the son of Joseph and Hannah (Axtell) Edmister.

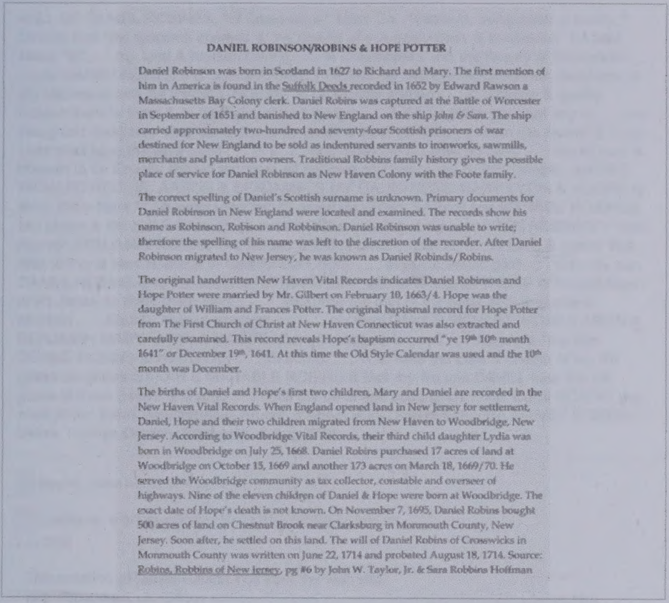
Daniel & Hope Potter Robins, from the book Robins, Robbins of New Jersey



DANIEL ROBINSON/ROBINS & HOPE POTTER

Daniel Robinson was born in Scotland in 1627 to Richard and Mary. The first mention of him in America is found in the Suffolk Deeds recorded in 1652 by Edward Rawson a Massachusetts Bay Colony clerk. Daniel Robins was captured at the Battle of Worcester in September of 1651 and banished to New England on the ship John & Sara. The ship carried approximately two-hundred and seventy-four Scottish prisoners of war destined for New England to be sold as indentured servants to ironworks, sawmills, merchants and plantation owners. Traditional Robbins family history gives the possible place of service for Daniel Robinson as New Haven Colony with the Foote family.

The correct spelling of Daniel's Scottish surname is unknown. Primary documents for Daniel Robinson in New England were located and examined. The records show his name as Robinson, Robison and Robbinson. Daniel Robinson was unable to write; therefore the spelling of his name was left to the discretion of the recorder. After Daniel Robinson migrated to New Jersey, he was known as Daniel Robinds/Robins.

The original handwritten New Haven Vital Records indicates Daniel Robinson and Hope Potter were married by Mr. Gilbert on February 10, 1663/4. Hope was the daughter of William and Frances Potter. The original baptismal record for Hope Potter from The First Church of Christ at New Haven Connecticut was also extracted and carefully examined. This record reveals Hope's baptism occurred "ye 19th 10th month 1641" or December 19th, 1641. At this time the Old Style Calendar was used and the 10th month was December.

The births of Daniel and Hope's first two children, Mary and Daniel are recorded in the New Haven Vital Records. When England opened land in New Jersey for settlement, Daniel, Hope and their two children migrated from New Haven to Woodbridge, New Jersey. According to Woodbridge Vital Records, their third child daughter Lydia was born in Woodbridge on July 25, 1668. Daniel Robins purchased 17 acres of land at Woodbridge on October 15, 1669 and another 173 acres on March 18, 1669/70. He served the Woodbridge community as tax collector, constable and overseer of highways. Nine of the eleven children of Daniel & Hope were born at Woodbridge. The exact date of Hope's death is not known. On November 7, 1695, Daniel Robins bought 500 acres of land on Chestnut Brook near Clarksburg in Monmouth County, New Jersey. Soon after, he settled on this land. The will of Daniel Robins of Crosswicks in Monmouth County was written on June 22, 1714 and probated August 18, 1714. 1. Matthew Williams, I occupation, Brickmaker / Farmer, married (1) Elizabeth Conant/Connant/Condit, married (2) c1645, in Wethersfield, CT, Susannah Cole, (daughter of Samuel Cole).
Matthew Williams of Wethersfield, Connecticut, was probably born between 1605 and 1622 in England or Wales. He died after 13 Nov 1654 and before 8 Jul 1659, probably in Wethersfield, CT. It is possible that he was married twice, first to Elizabeth Conant/Connant/Condit, "a girl from Scotland", and had three children by her. He later married Susannah Cole, born c1623 in England. Susannah died in Wethersfield, CT, after 8

GILES SMITH

GILES SMITH, Hartford, Conn., 1639, received land "by courtesie of the town": his home lot was on Maine Street, on the corner of what is now Charter Oak Street.

He sold 20 acres to Thomas Hosmer, March 6, 1642; later Philip Davis bought his house and land.

He was one of the earliest settlers of New London, but removed to Fairfield by 1651, and died there, 1669.

He left a second wife, Eunice (not the mother of his children), whose first husband was Jonathan Porter of Huntington, L. I.

Anna Smith, his daughter, married Francis Andrews.
